One of the key features of these tags is that they are incredibly versatile when it comes to application. You can choose from four different options: iron-on, sew-on, hook and loop, or self-sticking, depending on your preferences and the materials you're working with. This makes it easy to add custom embroidery patches to everything from jackets and backpacks to hats and shoes.

Another benefit of these garment patch label tags is that they come in a range of different designs. Whether you prefer the classic look of embroidery, the more modern look of woven tags, or the bold colors of printed tags, there's a design that will fit your style. This means you can create custom embroidery patches that are truly unique to you and your needs.

When it comes to size, these garment patch label tags are fully customizable. This means you can create tags that are the perfect size for your specific project, whether you're working on a small cap patch or a larger jacket patch. With so many options available, it's easy to create custom embroidery patches that are tailored to your needs.

Finally, one of the most important features of these garment patch label tags is that they are incredibly durable. Whether you choose iron-on, sew-on, hook and loop, or self-sticking tags, you can be confident that they will stay in place and hold up to wear and tear. This means you can enjoy your custom embroidery patches for years to come.

Our custom iron on embroidery patches are a great option for those looking to add a personal touch to their clothing items. These patches can be customized with any design or logo you desire, making them perfect for hats, jackets, and other clothing items.

These hat patches are made in China and are of the highest quality. They are designed to withstand frequent use and washing, making them a great investment for any garment industry business.

A person wearing a white t-shirt is ironing a white shirt on a table. The iron is white and blue. The background is a bright, sunlit room with shelves and a window. The text "iron-on" is written in a cursive font in the top left corner.

Application for Embroidery Patches

One popular application for these patches is as a cap logo. Many sports teams and organizations use YISON embroidery patches to create custom caps with their team or organization's logo. These patches are also commonly used as garment logos, allowing clothing brands to easily and effectively brand their products. Another common use for YISON embroidery patches is as a logo brand. Companies can create custom patches with their logo to attach to bags, hats, and other accessories, making it easy for customers to identify their brand. YISON embroidery patches come in a variety of colors, making it easy to match the patch to the color of the clothing item or accessory it will be attached to. Additionally, these patches are customizable, allowing companies and organizations to create patches that fit their specific needs. These iron on embroidery patches are also washable, ensuring that they will stay securely attached to clothing items even after multiple washes. In addition to iron on embroidery patches, YISON also offers rubber patches, which are another popular option for clothing labeling and branding. Overall, YISON embroidery patches are a versatile and customizable product that can be used in a variety of occasions and scenarios. Whether you're looking to create custom caps, brand clothing items, or promote your company or organization, these patches are a great choice.
